

Abstract

Colonial trafficking and social engineering: Contextualising international adoption between colonialism and modernity

International adoption, sometimes known as intercountry or transnational adoption, the movement of predominantly non-white adoptees from the non-Western world to white adopters in the West, was born in the mid-1950s in the aftermath of the Korean War. The practice is hitherto involving an estimated number of half a million children, of whom almost one third come from Korea. In the receiving countries, the practice was initiated as a rescue mission with strong Christian undertones, while it came to be perceived as a progressive act of solidarity during the 1960s and 1970s. Today, in the leading adopting regions of North America, Western Europe and Oceania, international adoption has developed into the last resort to have a child for singles and hetero- or homosexual couples suffering from infertility, while a discourse of multiculturalism celebrates international adoptees as bridges between cultures, symbols of interethnic harmony and embodiments of global and postmodern cosmopolitans. On the other hand in the sending countries, international adoption is mostly conceived of as a mixture of a family planning method and a child welfare practice. Despite regular outbursts of criticism towards the practice coming from domestic oppositional circles, most governments in the countries of origin view international adoption as a degrading and humiliating business while they at the same time treat it as a necessary evil, well aware that the practice generates huge amounts of money and sustains a profitable adoption industry.

This study aims to historicise and contextualise international adoption within the double projects of coloniality and modernity by studying the phenomenon from a comparative perspective and by the use of Korea as a case study. This regards both previous and contemporary parallels to international adoption and international adoptees within the context of child and forced migrations. Early predecessors to international adoption and international adoptees in the history of colonialism such as the occasional adoptions of “native” children by frontier settlers, soldiers and missionaries will be looked upon, as well as the controversial transracial adoptions of indigenous and minority children in North America and Australia. Furthermore, comparative studies between international adoption and the forced migrations of the slave and coolie trades and the trafficking in women, and the child migrations of various Western nationals such as British, American, Spanish, Finnish and German children will be made. Lastly, an analysis of the various ideologies, imaginaries and discourses surrounding international adoption and international adoptees will also be conducted. By applying a postcolonial and feminist theoretical perspective and an understanding of the intimate and indivisible relationship between colonial and modernist modes and manners, international adoption is conceptualised as a colonial project of uplifting, civilizing and assimilating non-Western children from the postcolonial world and as a self-disciplining and self-regulating biopolitical technology of power to be able to control women’s bodies and reproduction according to the ideals of modernity and social engineering.

Keywords: international adoption, forced child migration, colonialism, modernity

Tobias Hübinette, Multicultural Centre, Botkyrka, Sweden

Related publications

1999

“Korea-adoptionens historia” [The history of Korean adoption], Um & Yang: Medlemstidning för Adopterade Koreaners Förening no. 3/1999 (vol. 8), pp. 10-13.

“En kritik av den internationella adoptionen” [A critique of international adoption], Um & Yang: Medlemstidning för Adopterade Koreaners Förening no. 4/1999 (vol. 8), pp. 8-11.

2001

“History”, in Tobias Hübinette & Michael Lee Wallqvist (ed.), The 2nd International Gathering of Adult Korean Adoptees August 9-12, 2001, Oslo-Norway, Stockholm: Planning Committee of 2nd International Gathering of Adult Korean Adoptees, 2001, p. 23.

“Adoptionen från Korea” [Adoption from Korea], Um & Yang: Medlemstidning för Adopterade Koreaners Förening no. 2/2001 (vol. 10), pp. 29-30.

2002

“Ett försök till analys av adoptionsdebatten” [An attempt to an analysis of the adoption debate], Um & Yang: Medlemstidning för Adopterade Koreaners Förening no. 3/2002 (vol. 11), pp. 11-15.

2003

“Den sista människohandeln” [The last human trade], Arena no. 6/2003 (vol. 11), pp. 12-17.

“En grym människohandel” [A cruel trade in human beings], Dagens Nyheter: Kultur 2003-08-26, p. B2.

“Adoption är efterfrågestyrd” [Adoption is demand driven], Dagens Nyheter: Kultur 2003-08-30, p. B2.

“En blick på historien“ [A view on history], in Sofia Lindström & Astrid Trotzig (ed.), Hitta hem. Vuxna adopterade från Korea berättar [Finding home. Stories of adult adoptees from Korea], Stockholm: Ordfront, 2003, pp. 116-25.

“Stoppa adoptioner från Korea” [Stop adoptions from Korea], Socialpolitik no. 4-5/2003 (vol. 10), p. 39.

2004

“Se den koloniala strukturen!” [See the colonial structure!], Arena no. 1/2004 (vol. 12), p. 57.

“Korean adoption history”, in Eleana Kim (ed.), Community. Guide to Korea for overseas adopted Koreans, Seoul: Overseas Koreans Foundation, 2004, pp. 12-19+25-47.

“A critique of intercountry adoption”, in William Dudley (ed.), Issues in adoption. Current Controversies, Farmington Hills: Greenhaven Press, 2004, pp. 66-71.

”Internationell adoption, en cynisk människohandel” [International adoption, a cynical human trade], in Ingrid Ramberg (ed.), Blod och andra band. Om identitet, tillhörighet och konsten att vara människa [Blood and other bonds. On identity, belonging and the art to be a human being], Tumba: Mångkulturellt Centrum, 2004, pp. 54-57.

2005

“Adoption är alltid sista alternativet” [Adoption is always the last alternative], Aftonbladet: Debatt 2005-01-15, p. 44.

“Korea must stop overseas adoption”, Korea Herald 2005-03-01, p. 12.

2006

“From orphan trains to babylifts: Colonial trafficking, empire building and social engineering”, in Jane Jeong Trenka, Chinyere Oparah & Sun Yung Shin (ed.), Outsiders Within: Writing on transracial adoption, Boston: South End Press, 2006, pp. 139-149.

“International adoption is harmful and exploitative”, in Mary E. Williams (ed.), Adoption. Opposing viewpoints, Farmington Hills: Greenhaven Press, 2006, pp. 122-130.

+ Jane Jin Kaisen, “Rethinking international adoption in a Scandinavian context”, The OAK. Global Overseas Adoptees’ Link Newsletter Spring/2006 (vol. 8), pp. 13-14.

2008

“European colonial trafficking, American empire-building and Nordic social engineering. Rethinking international adoption from a postcolonial and feminist perspective”, in Meenu Bhatnagar (ed.), Child adoption. Issues and perspectives, Hyderabad: Icfai University Press, 2008, pp. 104-116.

+ Lena-Kim Arctadius, Susanne Brink, Daniel Cidrelius, Gitte Enander, Charlotta Göthlin, Daniel Hansson, Linda Häll, Mikael Jarnlo, Fatima Jonsson, Patrik Lundberg, Danjel Nam, Helena Nilsson, Matilda Sjödel & Malena Swanson, “Handel med barn måste bekämpas” [Child trade has to be combated], ETC 2008-11-11, 2 p.

+ Daniel Cidrelius, “Adoption till varje pris” [Adoption at all costs], Mana no. 5/2008 (vol. 11), p. 36-37.

+ Daniel Cidrelius, Gitte Enander, Charlotta Göthlin, Daniel Hansson, Linda Häll, Mikael Jarnlo, Fatima Jonsson, Patrik Lundberg, Danjel Nam, Helena Nilsson, Matilda Sjödel & Malena Swanson, "Adoption kan vara barnhandel. Västvärldens behov ska inte möjliggöra människohandel" [Adoption can be child trade. The West's need shall not make child trade possible], Aftonbladet: Debatt 2008-11-08, pp. 36-37.

2009

"Adoption", in Akira Iriye & Pierre-Yves Saunier (ed.), The Palgrave dictionary of transnational history. From the mid-19th century to the present day, Basingstoke: Palgrave Macmillan, 2009, pp. 11-13. (edited contribution)

+ Jennifer Kwon Dobbs, "Gathering adoptee voices to end South Korea's corrupt international adoption practices", United Adoptees International News 2009-08-14. http://uai-news.blogspot.com/2009/08/in-headline-todays-article\_13.html

Related presentations

1999

+ Anna Hübinette, "Against international adoption", 1st Conference of Overseas Adopted Koreans, Global Overseas Adoptees' Link, Suwon, 1999-08-22, in Guest Speakers' Booklet. Global Overseas Adoptees' Link's Conference 21-22 August 1999, Seoul: Global Overseas Adoptees' Link, 2005, pp. 77-84.

2000

"Avskaffa den internationella adoptionen" [Abolish international adoption], Hearing on Children in homosexual families, Swedish Parliament, Stockholm, 2000-02-25, in Barn i homosexuella familjer Del B [Children in homosexual families Part B], Statens offentliga utredningar 2001:10, Stockholm: Fritzes offentliga publikationer, pp. 402-404.

2003

"Barnhandel eller hjälpande hand. Reflektioner kring internationell adoption [Trade in children or a helping hand. Reflections on international adoption], Association of Foreign Affairs, Gothenburg University, Gothenburg, 2003-02-13.

"Den sista människohandeln" [The last human trade], Arena/ABF, Stockholm, 2003-12-09.

2004

"Barnhandel eller hjälpande hand? – ett föredrag om internationella adoptioner" [Trade in children or a helping hand – a discussion on international adoptions], Association of Foreign Affairs, Uppsala University, Uppsala, 2004-10-07.

2005

+ Tamara Kil-ja Kim Nopper, "A different perspective on international adoption", 7th Conference of the Korean American Adoptee Adoptive Family Network, Korean American Adoptee Adoptive Family Network, Westin Southfield Hotel, Detroit, 2005-07-24.

"International adoption between coloniality and modernity", 6th Conference of the Global Overseas Adoptees' Link, Konkuk University, Seoul, 2005-08-19, in Forging a New Community. GOAL's 6th Annual Conference August 19-20, 2005, Seoul: Global Overseas Adoptees' Link, 1999, pp. 38-47/48-55.

2006

+ Jane Jin Kaisen, "International adoption and Nordic neo-colonialism. (Dis)ComfortAN(d)AlieNation: The X-raced Mut(at)ed Speak", Living (in) the Postcolonial/Act 3 of Rethinking Nordic Colonialism: A Postcolonial Exhibition Project in Five Acts, Nordic Institute for Contemporary Art, The Faroe Islands Art Museum, Tórshavn, 2006-05-13.

+ Anna Jin-hwa Borstam, Jane Jin Kaisen & Ellen Nyman, "Internationell adoption – nordisk neokolonialism? [International adoption – Nordic neo-colonialism?]", Malmöfestivalen/Filmtältet, Folkets Bio, Malmö, 2006-08-25.

2008

"Om utredningar rörande internationell adoption" [On inquiries regarding international adoption], Familjerättsdagarna 2008, Djurönäset, Värmdö, 2008-03-31.

"Going native" eller att bli den andre - om kolonisatörens behov och begär efter tillhörighet speglat genom transrasiala adoptionsfantasier ["Going native" or becoming the Other: The coloniser's need and desire to belong reflected through transracial adoption fantasies], Multicultural Centre, Botkyrka, 2008-05-25 + 2008-10-09.

+ Sungjoon Cho, Boon Young Han, Yewon Lee & Jane Jeong Trenka, "Presentation of TRACK – Truth and Reconciliation for the Adoption Community of Korea", 9th Conference of the Global Overseas Adoptees' Link, Olympic Parktel, Seoul, 2008-08-02.

2009

"Om koloniala fantasier och transrasiala adoptioner" [Colonial fantasies and transracial adoptions], Skeppsholmens folkhögskola, Stockholm, 2009-02-05.

"Transnational adoption as a forced child migration", Department of Child and Youth Studies, Stockholm University, Stockholm, 2009-08-27.